ABOUT THE STUDIO

We believe that art and creative spaces are vital to vibrant, healthy communities. Recognizing a lack of accessible facilities and affordable resources for artists and small business owners in Calgary, we set out to create an inclusive space to foster collaboration and enrich culture in the city. In 2017 we signed a lease in Inglewood's historic Brass Foundry building, rolled up our sleeves, and transformed a very rough industrial bay into the plant and light-filled studio space of our dreams.

We've seen our community blossom under this roof as we seek to empower, employ, and open doors for artists and makers of all skill levels. Currently, our two professional offices, 38 open-concept studios, and 53 ceramic member cupboards are occupied by 100 artists representing a wide range of practices. We run up to fifteen pottery classes per week (up to 180 students!) in addition to regular Date Nights, Private Events and those attending private lessons and guest workshops. Behind each of these offerings is a talented, hardworking team of artists and entrepreneurs flexing diverse skill sets as instructors, managers, and techs.

Our ceramics studio houses 16 CSA approved Shippo RK Whisper wheels, a 30" Bailey slab roller with a 72" table, wedging tables, an extruder, a hood vent for mixing glazes, and a variety of gas and electric kilns. We stock a variety of mid and high fire Plainsman clays and cone packs, which are available for purchase by students, members, and tenants.
